

LOOKING TO RUN A STORE?

LOOK NO FURTHER...

Here at Calendar Club, we work in partnership with our self-employed Store Operators, who run their own store like it's their own business.

We provide all you need to set up and trade your seasonal business (late September to mid-January) - the lease, the fixtures, the stock and our tried and tested retail formula, developed over 20 years.

Be your own boss, with great short-term earning potential and the flexibility to pursue your other interests for the rest of the year.

As a self-employed Store Operator, you will act as a manager running your store in the lead up to and over the busy Christmas period. You don't need to be an experienced retailer, but some retail, management or customer service experience is a good start. Importantly, you need the confidence to be in control of your store.

Working in partnership with us means you will always represent the Calendar Club brand, providing exceptional customer experience to everyone who visits your store and, in turn, ensuring your store meets or exceeds its sales targets. You will be responsible for the day to day running of your store, ensuring it is well merchandised, open at agreed times, and that our processes and procedures are followed. As a self-employed Store Operator, it's your responsibility to recruit, train and pay your staff members.

To be successful, you will need to be organised, responsible and hardworking. Retail hours can be long over the Christmas period, but the financial rewards are there for the right person.

Get in touch ... we are waiting to hear from you.
